However the Committee Wished to refer BCBC to their previous Comments from the previous application: St John's House is the oldest dwelling house in Bridgend Town situated in the Newcastle Hill Conservation Area. The front of the building is basically of 'oak beam' appearance and any new structure of a modern design would be visually detrimental. BCBC Planning portal documents illustrate a layout that appears to indicate this will be a noticeboard fixed into the ground in the small garden area to right of front door. If this permission is granted, the notice board should be of a traditional dark oak or dark metal appearance so the frames blend in. |
